

Pipe Lubricant

- Essential in aiding the installation of drainage systems
- Available for popular pipe materials
- Re-sealable packaging for repeated use
- Packaging is tough enough for site conditions
- User friendly
- WRAS approved

Pipe lubricant is an essential contractor requirement when installing drainage systems. Fernco's range includes lubricant for Plastic, Clay and Concrete pipes in a variety of tube or tub sizes.

Pipe lubricant complements our product portfolio and offers our customers an easy 'add-on' option when purchasing connections they need for a project. Our packaging allows the contractor to use and re-use as required and minimises mess.

Pipe materials have different porosity properties and therefore it's important to use an appropriate lubricant. For example Concrete is more porous than Plastic and therefore should be used with a lubricant designed to aid Concrete applications.
